Art Unit: 2157

1. Claims 1-17 are presenting for examination.
2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Applewhite (US 2002/0100051).
4. As to claims 1-17, Applewhite shows in Fig 1, a home entertainment system using a data structure as being claimed for transferring data between a hub 10 and remote node(s) 34 (audio speakers in different rooms) in which the data structure includes different fields to synchronize the remote node 34 to the hub 10, exchanging control information between the node 34 and the hub 10, and transferring data between the node 34 and the hub 10 synchronized with other nodes 34, see the abstract, lines 7-21, [0007]- [0011], [0024], [0030]-[0031], [0035].

Therefore, it can be seen from paragraph 4 that Applewhite anticipates claims 1-17.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Moustafa M Meky whose telephone number is 703-305-9697. The examiner can normally be reached on flex.
